

KENT MATHEWSON

Acoustic Guitar and Performance

Kent is a professional guitarist in the genres of Contemporary Worship, Rock, Blues, and Country. His conventional guitar teaching style includes a basic ground level approach such as Numbering Systems, Strumming, Chord Shapes, and Changing Chords. His style of teaching is perfect for the everyday musician. His expertise is developing his student's musical ear so that they can play their favorite songs by ear along with a solid foundation. His students will be taught how to musically create their own songs as well.

Along with Kent having over 40 years performing publicly in churches and other venues, he also has years of experience in teaching private music lessons to students from 9 years old to adult with years of experience coaching music teams.

Kent began his music journey in kindergarten and learned stringed instruments by the age of 15. At 17, he was part of a primitive classic "rock & roll" band where his group performed at private events. It was soon after this that his heart took him to be a part of church worship teams.

By 19, and for the next 5 years, he teamed up with another musician friend and formed a group called The Joyful Noise which traveled through the central FL area. He continued to work in church bands and produced up to 6 large musical productions per year. Him and his wife, Deborah, have been a musical team in various ministries for over 25 years with one of their past highlights being when they teamed up with Rock Ministries and traveled through the Midwest as worship leaders for conferences and coaching music teams.

Kent's passion for music has been a lifelong calling. Teaching others is his way to be grateful and share his God-given gift of music.
