

Sarah Clark

Piano • Voice • Guitar • Music Theory

Sarah Clark is a passionate and experienced music educator with over 12 years of teaching experience, inspiring students of all ages to grow in both musical skill and confidence. She teaches piano at all levels, voice, guitar, and music theory, creating engaging, personalized lessons that foster creativity, technical excellence, and a lifelong love of music.

Sarah's formal musical journey began at the age of seven and continued throughout her school years with training in piano, voice, and guitar. This strong musical foundation led her to earn a Bachelor's Degree in Music Therapy from Florida State University in Tallahassee, Florida, following her graduation from Joe E. Newsome High School in Lithia, Florida.

Throughout her teaching career, Sarah has worked with beginner through advanced students, preparing them for recitals, competitions, and performances while tailoring each lesson to each student's unique learning style, goals, and abilities. Her strengths include curriculum development, lesson planning, student engagement, performance preparation, and recital coordination. She is especially gifted at helping students build confidence while developing strong musical fundamentals.

In addition to her private teaching career, Sarah currently serves as the Music Instructor Lead at a Hillsborough County public school, where she provides leadership in music education by building foundational musicianship through singing, instrument exploration, and ensemble collaboration. She also works closely with fellow educators to cultivate a vibrant, engaging, and inspiring arts program for her students.

Sarah is known for creating joyful, encouraging, and inclusive learning environments where students not only develop their musical abilities but also feel empowered in their learning, create good habits, and cultivate self-expression. She believes every student has unique potential and is committed to helping each one discover the joy and lifelong rewards of making music.
