

Alexis Chavers

Flute (all levels), Ukulele (all levels), Recorder, Piano (beginners), Music Fundamentals, Sight Reading, Performance, College Flute Prep, Technique & Theory

Alexis was born in Tampa, Florida, and has been in love with all things music since the early age of 11 years old. She started out on the trombone and later her band director transitioned her to the flute and she became very proficient in her instrument.

Growing up she went to Florida Classic every year and was inspired by FAMU's Marching 100. This is where her passion for music expanded. Fast forward a few years, after completing college she began teaching in public schools as a certified K-12 Music Instructor since 2018.

As a 4th generation educator in her family, her love for teaching runs deep. Along with the Flute, Alexis also teaches the Ukulele, Recorder, and Piano! She loves to meet her students where they are and adapts her teaching to the music genres that they love to keep each lesson exciting and engaging. She has been a music instructor in the Hillsborough County Public Schools for six years. Alexis helps each of her students understand their instrument and strives to see them succeed in their musical journey! Through her experience, she has been able to set up her One-on-One students for the opportunity to be in the Hillsborough County All-County band (middle and high school) for three years straight! Most recently, a handful of her selected students were chosen for the All-State Honors Band in 2023.

In her free time, Alexis runs a community service project called "Harriet's Horns" which has provided over 30 students with musical instruments across the states of Florida and Georgia. This platform has helped sponsor several students for various university summer band camps. Alexis is also a member of Sigma Alpha Iota-Tampa Alumnae Chapter and the Tampa Bay Area Marching 100 Alumni Band Association enhancing her knowledge in the world of music.

Along with her teaching experience, she also works in Social Services at COVE Behavioral Health since 2021. Alexis began working as a Certified Child Welfare Case Manager where she enjoyed reunifying children with their parents and finding forever homes for those unable to return to their biological families.

Alexis pours her love for music into her students and her goal is to teach them how to play songs that give them joy! Music has helped her through many obstacles in life and as a result, she wants her students to experience this same gift...the gift of music!
